An Injured Innocent. (From pesterday's Wheeling Register.)
To the Committee appointed by the Legisla-ture to Investigate the Subject of Public

GENTLEMEN :- Since I have bee Generalemen:—Since I have been charged, more or less directly by a few political and, perhaps, personal enemies, (and especially by W. E. Stevenson, editor of the Parkersburg Journal,) with having wronged the State in the matter of Public Printing; and since it is made your duty by the terms of the Legislative resolution under which you hold your appointments, to investigate the whole subject of Public Printing since the formation of the State, I deem it proper to call your attention to these charges and call your attention to these charges and insinuations which have been made against my character and suggest that it is your duty to take cognizance of the same. I have chosen this public manner of calling your attention to this matter, in calling your attention to this matter, in order to invite all who have given currency to these charges to furnish you with their evidence and with the names of such witnesses as they may desire tashave examined. Being conscious myself of entire innocence, I court the fullest investigation.

Very Respectfully, Lewis Baker.

As Mr. BAKER has never had anything to do with the public printing except as an "employe" of the Public Printer, and is therefore in no way amenable to the law or responsible for anything the Public Printer may have done, we fail to see the point of this virtuous demand that he be investigated. The only thing that could be investigated would be his private and personal arrangements with Mr. WALKER. That is something that no committee of the Legislature has any right to inquire into. There is nothing, however, to hinder Mr. Baker from making any exposure of his private affairs that he may deem interesting to the public or advantageous to himself.

EMIGRATION FROM EUROPE.-There good authority for saying that the present tide of trans-atlantic travel is almost unexampled. Outward bound are our regular travelers and sight-seers, while on the return trips come shoals of of immigrants. Many of these are from Germany and from France. The Prussian official journal has recently published the law which enjoins military service in the provinces of Alsace and Lorraine for the autumn o 1872. Emigration commenced immediately after the annexation of these provinces to the German empire, and still continues to carry away a large portion of their youths, and a portion of the tide has set toward America. We profit also by the enormous military preparations of Germany and other European powers which disgust many of the people, and lead them to seek a country where the best part of a young man's life is not spent in the profession of arms.

VACCINATION A CARE FOR SMALL-Pox.—Mr. R. C. Furley, licentiate of the London Royal College of Surgeons, in a letter to the Scotsman, says he is able to prove that vaccination is not only a preventive of disease, but a cure. He says he can show from cases under his care at the present time that "if you vaccinate during the tebrale stage the fever is slightly increased, but the eruption does not make its appearance, and if you vaccinate during the crup tive stage the cruption is immediately arrested. The mature lymph overtakes the immature poison, and the disease terminates. If the cruption has gone the length of having white tops, there is danger of infection; if not, it dies away as pumples." Mr. Furley "invites members of the medical profession to acmembers of the medical procession to accompany him through the patients he has under his care," and thus, he says, possibly stamp out the epidemic in a few

THE Chicago Tribune thinks that the political campaign starts off with too much of personality in the press. It inquires whether it "would not be well for both speakers and journals entering on this campaign to observe, at least, the amenities of the prize ring, by first shaking hands all around and professing mutual respect before they proceed to 'douse each other's glims' in the name of national championship and manly self-defense."

THE two most important measures which failed to secure final action at the session of the Ohio Legislature which closed Monday, were the bills providing for the election of delegates to the Constitutional Convention and the codification of the School laws. THE Congressional district across the river (the Sixteenth) as constituted by the apportionment bill lately passed at Columbus, embraces the following counties
